Preface

The journey of creating this project has been both challenging and enlightening. This work is the culmination of several months of research, analysis, and practical application, driven by a passion for the subject and a desire to contribute to the field.

The inspiration for this project came from my deep interest in Natural Language pre-processing. Recognizing the potential impact of this, I embarked on this journey to explore and address the primary objective of the problem.

Throughout this project, I have endeavoured to maintain a balance between theoretical frameworks and practical implementations. The initial chapters provide a comprehensive overview of the existing literature and theoretical underpinnings, setting the stage for the subsequent practical applications and findings discussed in later sections.

This project would not have been possible without the guidance and support of several individuals. I am deeply grateful to my internal guide for their unwavering support and insightful guidance. Their expertise and encouragement have been instrumental in shaping the direction and outcome of this work.

I also owe a great deal of gratitude to my peers and colleagues for their collaborative spirit and constructive feedback, which have greatly enriched this project. Additionally, I extend my heartfelt thanks to my family and friends for their constant support and understanding throughout this journey.

This preface serves not only as an introduction to the work presented but also as a testament to the collective effort and support that have made this project possible. It is my hope that the findings and insights presented herein will contribute meaningfully to the field of NLP and inspire further research and innovation.

Thank you for taking the time to engage with this work. I look forward to any feedback and discussions that may arise from it.
